

Tilapia images showing the many colour variations of the species Oreochromis mossambicus

Left: Image of the specimen caught in an offshoot of the Mary River at Tiaro in October 2014

Regardless of colour, all Tilapia have a continuous, unbroken dorsal fin as indicated by the yellow circle. This is probably the easiest way to identify the species.

For more information, visit http://www.feral.org.au/wp-content/uploads/2012/02/TILFS2_web.pdf or https://www.daff.qld.gov.au/data/assets/pdf_file/0007/52945/0497_tilapia_factsheet_tagged.pdf