

Scarlet-sided pobblebonk Limnodynastes terraereginae

Photo: E. Ford, MRCCC

- Stunning large frog with startled expression.
- Often mistaken for the cane toad as they sit upright and are coloured in shades of brown.
- Obvious facial gland, orange sides and reddish groin area.
- The males call with a resonant 'bonk' sound from the edges of lowland, permanent swamps and marshes.