

Green treefrog Litoria caerulea

Photo : Queensland Museum

- A frequent visitor to habitation, this is the most familiar frog of all.
- Can grow to 100mm and can be coloured green, brown and sometimes a shade of blue/purple. Can also have white spots along its sides.
- Very widely distributed across many habitats, it breeds in still water during summer.